

QUARTZ DESIGN SAQ 2007

Studio Arne Quinze tackles geometry once again and has furthered its work on forms and faceting, seeking new effects from the wood and creating a chair whose design is a combination of the past and future. Using the most classic of materials, SAQ has successfully made an object with a symbolic shape in which the material gains qualities of luminosity.

Quartz is an object of the future that retains the intrinsic value of wood – strong and hard-wearing, comfortable and basic. "We wanted to give the material a different look without however ignoring its natural qualities. The facets give a dynamic and vibrant appeal, while the surface plays with the light, creating a sparkling effect. Just like quartz."
